Canadians signed FRIENDS' pledge to defend the CBC

I love the CBC. You can be anywhere in Canada and still have access to it. Aside from the content being wonderful, it is also so unifying. I cannot imagine Canada without the CBC. It is so valuable to us and we take it for granted.

FRIENDS supporter, 27 years

2 critical bills passed protecting Canadian voices in Canadian media—the Online Streaming Act and the Online News Act

1 letter to Elon Musk, amplified by thousands of supporters, forcing Twitter to accurately label the CBC

Canadians do not appreciate and will not tolerate big foreign tech companies like Google wielding their market dominance when they don't get their way. We hope Ottawa takes this opportunity to send Google a clear message not to mistake Canadian kindness for weakness.

...we will continue to stand up for Canadian voices.
